

American 2/8/66

DALY DIARY

By Maggie's Daily

Purple and black bunting in the new Civic center lobby for the late Judge Augustine Bowe . . . the first time mourning colors have been placed in the new building.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1966

TOWER TICKER

By Herb Lyon

over for the green gala. . . . We join with all Chicagoans in mourning the death of Judge Augustine Bowe, a man of wit and wisdom. . . . Alarmed at the staggering car accident rate, Mel Wolff, the Gaze Chrysler guy, is setting

18 ★

CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, Thursday, Feb. 10, 1966

Dateline Chicago

3 Top Candidates for Bowe's Post

BY VIRGINIA KAY

THREE OF THE LEADING candidates to replace the late Augustine Bowe as presiding judge of the Municipal Division of Circuit Court are Judges Casimir Cwiklinski, Daniel McNamara and Joseph Power. All three are considered tough, no-nonsense guys. Cwiklinski formerly ran Traffic Court; McNamara has served as acting presiding judge of the Municipal Division and is noted for the work he did in Family Court (now Juvenile Court), and Power is a former Municipal Division judge.

VIRGINIA
KAY

CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, Monday, Feb. 7, 1966

● Chicago has lost a truly gentle man in the death of Augustine Bowe. Knowledgeable in the arts, witty, courtly, striding down Lake Shore Dr. from his home to the chief justice's chambers in Municipal Court with his white hair whipped by a breeze, he was a man to see and remember.